Pastor Wang is a missionary serving in a Creative Access area. He and his wife were led to the Lord by foreign missionaries in China many years ago and began serving in a house church. Even though they had good career prospects, they followed the call from God and entered full-time ministry. A few years ago they responded to God by entering very challenging areas to preach to unreached people groups. They are still continuing to serve and train indigenous people to become disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ.
